

A Few Days of Love

♥ #1 - Create Some Free Time

Focus on your husband's transitional thirty minutes today. Would he like to be left alone to rest or undivided attention from you? The point is to let your husband know you value what he does in the world, and that he has a safe, loving place to come home to and get refreshed at the end of a long day.

♥ #2 - Do Something He Enjoyed Years Ago

Initiate an activity that your husband used to love. Whether it's his favorite hobby, sport, or videogame, it's time for you to get involved. Be his buddy today.

♥ #3 - Spreading Great Gossip about Your Man

Say something nice about your husband to someone else. Make sure you tell him what you said, and to whom.

♥ #4 - A Heart Just for Him

Get a food treat for your husband that he is not required to share with you or anyone else in the family.

♥ #5 - Sweet Nothings

Flirt. Send a flirty text or facebook message to your husband.

♥ #6 - On My Mind

Set up reminders during the day to think and pray for your husband. Let him know sometime during the day that he has been on your mind.

♥ #7 - What Not to Wear

Get rid of one item of clothing you know your husband is not in love with. If it's a favorite that you'll have a hard time parting with, go ahead and purchase a replacement you know your guy will like.

♥ #8 - Let Him Know You Think He Is Hot

In some way today, let your husband know that you're (still) attracted to him physically.

 #9 - Breakfast in Bed

Plan ahead for this and wake him up with his favorite morning food in bed. Include coffee and juice.

 #10 - Post-It-Note

Leave a cute and flirty note for your husband to find.

 #11 - Car Chases and Karate Chops

Let him win the media wars as you suggest an action-packed-car-chasing-things-exploding thriller.

 #12 - Take Notice

Tell your husband something about him that you think is simply great.

 #13 - Dress to Impress

Wear something just for him. You can go buy something or pick an item you already own.

 #14 - Straight to a Man's Heart

Food! Savory or sweet! Steak or cookies! Get in the kitchen and make your husband something amazing to eat.

